Hi Terri,

Thanks for your message yesterday and for dealing with my questions over the weekend.

Any information you can share today about why several EPA staff members called Dimock residents on Friday to arrange water deliveries and then, apparently, called to rescind or clarify that promise on Saturday would be much appreciated. If the agency is still considering water deliveries (or if it has decided against it) that would also be helpful to know.

Also, if the EPA were to arrange water deliveries for Dimock residents and/or begin testing private water wells there, is there a particular law or policy that would be invoked to authorize those actions?

Thanks again,
